

CALL FOR ENTRIES

Rewarding safe and sustainable use of solvents
Open to any distributor, formulator or user of solvents

WHO IS ESIG?

The European Solvents Industry Group (ESIG) promotes the safe, sustainable and responsible use of solvents. We are an industry group set up to ensure that the regulatory framework for the manufacture, storage, distribution and use of these solvents is based on sound science and best practice. ESIG is a Cefic (European Chemical Industry Council) sector group supporting manufacturers of oxygenated and hydrocarbon solvents in Europe.

APPLY HERE UNTIL 3RD SEPTEMBER 2021

WHAT IS THE ESIG SOLVENTS AWARD?

The ESIG Solvents Award has been introduced to highlight the safe and sustainable use of solvents with respect to health and safety, environmental protection or product performance or any combination of these. For 2021 due to COVID-19 outbreak, we have decided to broaden the scope to initiatives which protect employees and the public health and help provide critical supplies.

WHO CAN APPLY?

Applications are open to downstream users of solvents including anyone involved in the distribution, formulation, storage or use of a solvent.

The award is a great opportunity to tell your story about how you enhanced product performance, implemented environmental protection measures or acted to improve health and safety of your workers.

WHAT WILL YOU NEED TO SUBMIT?

A description of your project (2000 words maximum) detailing the following:

- your strategic objectives
- what you achieved
- how you measured your performance
- how you communicated the benefits to target audiences

Your application can include any additional information on the project, like photographs, videos, illustrations or charts. We look forward to hearing from you!

HOW WILL WE CHOOSE THE WINNER?

The entries will be examined in September 2021 by a panel of experts made up of senior representatives from the EU institutions, media and trade associations.

The panel will shortlist five candidates whose projects will be showcased on the ESIG website, in ESIG publications, and promoted on social media. All will have the opportunity to present their story at the award ceremony.

The winner will be selected from these five shortlisted candidates and receive our award trophy.

The winner will also be strongly promoted at both national and European level: ESIG will sponsor a special celebration event at their site or in their region, while the award itself will be handed out at the 25th anniversary celebration of ESIG on 19th October 2021.

WHY TAKE PART?

A media campaign will promote the ESIG Solvents Award, which will cover the European and local events as well as the build-up to the announcement.

Leading European chemical and trade press have given wide coverage to the previous winners and the shortlisted candidates.

This is a wonderful opportunity to showcase your achievements to your suppliers and customers, as well as to regulators, industry and the media.
